TWO HUNDRED FAMILIES EVACUATED NEAR MARYSVILLE

MARYSVILLE (Cal.) March 26. (AP)—Two hundred families were rendered homeless tonight when the Feather River overran its banks at Alico, three miles south of Marysville. A number of workers who had been engaged in strengthening the levee were forced to leave the river went out of bounds. The new flood area is an orchard country.

SCHOOL DISMISSED AS DAM MENACES

QUINCY (Cal.) March 26. (AP)—School children at Greenville, Fresno county, were dismissed at 11 a.m. today because it was feared the big dam at the reservoir above the place might give way, due to heavy rains and flood water. The dam impounds about two square miles of water, several thousand feet above the town. A crew of men was at work today reinforcing it.

The forest service completed a line today from Greenville to the dam and placed a man on guard at the dam to give a warning down the valley if it appears the dam might give way.

Reports from Twain on the east branch of the north fork of the Feather River say the water is the highest in years and rising steadily.

THOUSANDS HOMELESS IN NORTH SACRAMENTO

SACRAMENTO, March 26. (AP)—Rain falling here this afternoon increased the fears of hundreds of homeless in inundated North Sacramento that their dwellings may be totally inundated by the flood. The United States Weather Bureau, however, announced late today that the Feather, Yuba and American Rivers are receding and that the flood waters probably will not again rise to the level of inundation in intensity breaks tonight. The city of Sacramento proper, lies behind high levees and it is only suburbs to the north and east that are under water from five to fifteen feet deep. The waters might rise another five feet before Sacramento will be inundated in the opinion of city officials.

ROADS UNDER WATER

All highways into North Sacramento are covered with water. The roads are dotted with automobiles, their tops barely showing above the flood. Rescue work went on last night and this morning. Families were taken from their submerged dwellings in rowboats. Live stock were driven to safety before the water covered the barns. Farmers sought safety in trees in still unrooted. Eddies carried chicken coops through the streets of the city, with chickens clinging to the eaves. Some sought shelter with a family of chickens and yowled from a drifting shed.

In the meantime the problem of feeding and housing homeless of the community is being undertaken. Grocers of the flooded area are using rowboats to deliver food to many residents who are still clinging to their homes. An appeal has been made to the Red Cross for cots and the Salvation Army has sent agents into the area. Churches, lodgerooms, bars, and armories are being used as temporary homes.

The flood waters began to rise yesterday afternoon and reached a crest at 4 o'clock this morning. The water backed up against a levee in the Brighton district and travel was blocked. Rafts, rowboats and motor boats were utilized by rescue crews in taking families and domestic animals away from island refuges. The Woodlake district, pretty residential section of Sacramento, was inundated. Service northward was suspended by the Sacramento Northern Railroad. The Western Pacific tracks were but a foot above the water level.

MUST BE FED

A loss in excess of $50,000 will be borne by residents of the flooded areas in the opinion of city authorities and business leaders. The community has a population of 5000. It is estimated that 4000 must be fed for a period of from three days to a week.

One bridge in Eureka is washed out. The damage to the city proper thus far has been nominal and, although forty stores and many residences have been flooded, in most instances the water in stock has been light, with individual losses confined mostly to the expense of cleaning up.

Stores within a five-block radius of the river tonight are barricading against higher flooding if the rain continues.

One bridge in Eureka Canyon is washed out.

In the farming regions the benefit to crops is held to more than offset all damage. Several hundred acres are reported under water and while some of the land has been spoiled it will be a total loss if the water stands twenty-four hours longer.

REDDING AREA DELUGED; RIVER BECOMES TORRENT

REDDING, March 26. (AP)—The St. Joe's, one of the greatest streams of the season, burst its banks this morning and with heavy rains of the last few days let the river a raging torrent, with the peak of the flood not expected to pass Redding before midnight tonight.

The death was reported by Deputy Sheriff Jack Hammatt and Ernest Benson of Modesto, who were on the Tuolumne with a speedboat. They said that they heard cries coming from the thick underbrush along the river, but when they pushed their way through the bushes the spot they found was a coat and vest floating on the water.

About 4000 acres of lowland bordering the Stanislaus and Tuolumne rivers were inundated from two to six feet deep. The land is under cultivation with spinach and young orchards.

UNSETTLED WEATHER DUE TO CONTINUE

Possible light showers today and cloudy, unsettled weather is the prediction made by the Los Angeles office of the United States Weather Bureau last night. Tomorrow will be partly cloudy and moderate temperatures will prevail for the next two days, according to the forecast.

The rain which prevailed over the entire area yesterday included a maximum of one-half inch in Los Angeles and one-half inch in Monrovia, 17; Azusa, 15; Arcadia, 17; Sierra Madre, 04; Santa Maria, 02 and Duarre, 01.

FOR those who are worried whether there is going to be anything of interest in the California-Stanford meet this year, we suggest right now that while Walt Christie's aggregation is probably that has ever represented the Blue and Gold, the race between Lank Talbot and Spencer in the quarter-mile is going to be worth going miles to see. The way Lank was rolling out there yesterday again suggests that he will be under the 48s, mark a couple or three weeks hence which means that Spencer will have to ramble to beat him.

And while we're on the subject of meets we might say that there is still plenty of excitement coming up. Today Occidental and Pomona engage in their postponed scramble for the crown of the Southern California district. It is not stretching the truth to state that there won't be a more hotly contested meet all year and, what's more, the performances will be outstanding. At Pomona is a slight favorite to bowl the Tigers over, as they did last year, but not by enough of a margin to cheer about just yet.

Both Occidental and Pomona have well-balanced track teams. The Sageshens appear to have a little edge in the first-place single and the Tigers seem to have a little more speed and third-place stuff. If some of the Sageshens nose in ahead of the Tigers into second places it will give them the meet and the same thing goes for the Tigers. They can bowl into the second half of first-place material that the Sageshens have built up. The chances look very good to the relay to decide the thing.

Meanwhile the newer city high schools are having their annual city meet beginning today at L.A. High and finishing with the finals Friday at the Coliseum. Fremont, Belmont and Palisades are favored to split most of the honors, but between them and there will be plenty of excitement before the affair is over. Three or four years ago the first three schools were so close at one point and they look almost as well matched this time.

MINE ECONOMIC LAW DISCUSSED

Senate Investigators Hear
Open Shop Praised

Supply and Demand Said to Guide Industry

Question of Christian Ideal
Brought Forward

WASHINGTON, March 26. (P)—

The human side of the troubles within the soft-coal industry was subordinated today to a discussion of the economic laws binding that industry as the Senate investigation committee turned its attention to the West Virginia situation.

George Anderson, executive vice-president of the Consolidation Coal Company, said that supply and demand were the determining factors inexorably, describing this as “a law of the jungle,” but he conceded that this means a struggle which will result in the “survival of the fittest.”

“What we are trying to do,” broke in Senator Wheeler, Democrat, Mont., “is to bring Christianity into the ‘economics involving the coal industry, but I don’t know whether the operators will help or not.”

CHRISTIAN IDEAL

Senator Gooding, Republican, Idaho, declared that European countries, at least, have agreed to have the Christian ideal govern some major industries, as opposed to the jungle law mentioned by Anderson. This means, he said, the execution of agreements between countries to fix a price for their products to secure protection for the public, the laborer and the investor, alike.

He had earlier expressed the opinion that modern civilization has given rise to changed conditions, which made it necessary to have a modification of the Sherman antitrust law. This would allow, the Idahoan explained, consolidation of coal companies to alleviate depression.

Anderson, to whom the committee is expected to grant a hearing, was referred by John D. Rockefeller, regarding details of the Consolidation Coal Company position in the dispute over the 1924 Baltimore wage agreement, said the company “absolutely and positively denies any abrogation of this contract.”

FACTS BACK OPEN SHOP

He declared that the large number of West Virginia operators who have refused to subscribe to the agreement makes it impossible for that wage scale to be fully observed. After a hearing a little more than a year under it, he said, the operators and miners together have recognized that it cannot be maintained and have decided to let it lapse.

Anderson cited comparative statistics for 1924 under union operation, and 1927 under “open-shop” operation. The increase of working men per day in 1927, he said, was 318 or 7.3 per cent. Other increases he gave were as follows:

“Incomes annual earnings per man, $322, or 27 per cent. Pay roll increase $1,831,000, or 36 per cent.

Increased production, 2,233,000 tons, or 1-1/2 per cent.

“Incomes per day worked per man were 125, or 9 per cent.”

In discussing these statistics, Senator Gooding on the figures indicating that the increase of “working day” was 318, he said, “I can’t believe it.” and that the increased annual earnings per man was $322, or only 27 per cent.

NEW DAM BILL CHANGE VOTED

Preferential Power Rights

Three Lower-Basin States

WASHINGTON, March 26. (P)—

The House Irrigation Committee today adopted another Boulder Dam amendment insisted upon by Nevada, giving the lower-basin States of California, Arizona and Nevada preferential and equal rights to contract for power. Although discussion of the amendment brought out considerable objection on the part of proponents of the Swing-Johnson bill, opposition was dropped when the roll was called and no votes were cast in opposition.

FARM-AID BILL GIVEN TO HOUSE

Committee Sends it Out With Approval

WASHINGTON, March 26. (AP)—The House Agriculture Committee today reported the McNary-Haugen farm relief bill. The vote was 15 to 6. Chairman Haugen said that no last-minute changes of any consequence had been made in the measure and he and Representative Purnell of Indiana, the ranking Republican member, both declared the measure is the best farm-relief bill ever presented to Congress.

The measure as approved, is a material revision of the bill passed by Congress last year and vetoed by President Coolidge.

Haugen and Purnell said the bill was drafted to meet all objectives of the bill. Coolidge vetoed his veto message except as to the equalization fee. They explained that mandatory provisions had been written into the bill to compel the Federal farm board, which would be created, to endeavor to stabilize the agriculture industry by use of loans and other means.

Only in the event of failure of these they said will the board resort to use of the equalization machinery.

Representative Golder, attorney for Cunningham, went before Judge Dickinson in the Federal District Court and filed a petition for a writ of habeas corpus discharging the Sheriff from the custody of the Senate. The court fixed April 8 for hearing.

HAITIAN SORCERY DENIES DEAD GRAVE'S SOLACE

'Zombies,' Living Corpses, Believed in by Superstitious Folk of Black Republic

W. B. Seabrook, American writer, who recently spent months in Haiti investigating Vodou and Haitian voodoo cults, has written his experiences exclusively for the Times and associated newspapers of the North American News Service. The word and last article of the series. [Copyright, 1932, by North American Newspaper Alliance.]

BY W. B. SEABROOK

PORT-AU-PRINCE (Haiti) March 26. (Exclusive)—Pretty much Julia had taken baby Marianne to bed. Constant Polynice and I sat late before the door of his thatched, clay-walled house, talking of fire-hags, demons, werewolves and vampires, while a full moon slowly flooded the ravines and mountain gorges. His habitation, high among the central mountains of La Gonave, marked one of the most isolated spots in the West Indies. No maps or surveys, old or new, marked the narrow trail by which Faustin Wirkus and I had climbed on unshod Haitian horses the steep, expressionless, over their week before.

Constant Polynice, however, was no common jungle peasant. He made frequent trips across the bay to Port-au-Prince and spoke sometimes of installing a radio.

A Haitian farmer born and bred, he was familiar with every superstition of the mountains and the plain, yet too intelligent to believe them literally true—or at least so I gathered from his conversation.

HAITIAN SPECIAL "HANT"

As Polynice talked on, I reflected that these tales ran closely parallel not only with those of the negroes in Georgia and the Carolinas but with the medieval folk lore of white Europe. Werewolves, vampires and demons were certainly no novelty to him. I reported one creature I had been hearing about in Haiti which seemed to me exclusively local—the zombie.

It seemed (or so I had been assured by negroes more credulous than Polynice) that while the zombie came from the grave and endowed with sorcery with a mechanical skill, it was a dead man, neither a ghost nor yet a person who had been raised from the dead.

The zombie, they said, is a soulless human corpse, still dead, but taken from the grave and endowed by sorcery with a mechanical skill, it was a dead man, neither a ghost nor yet a person who had been raised from the dead.

The zombie, they said, is a soulless human corpse, still dead, but taken from the grave and endowed by sorcery with a mechanical skill, it was a dead man, neither a ghost nor yet a person who had been raised from the dead.

REMEMBERS PARALLEL

Then suddenly I remembered—and my mind seized the memory as a man about to drown clutches a solid plank—the face of a dog I had once seen in the medical-school laboratory at Columbia. Its entire front brain had been removed in an experimental operation weeks before, and its eyes were like the eyes I now saw staring.

I recovered from my mental panic. "The zombie face, for that matter, was bad enough. It was vacant, as if there was nothing behind it. It seemed not only expressionless, but incapable of expression."

I had seen so much previously in Haiti that was outside ordinary, normal experience that for the dash of a second I had a hankering—almost panic-like—lapse, in which I thought, or rather felt, "Maybe this stuff is really true and if it is true, it is rather awful, for it upsets everything." By "everything" I meant the rational, fixed laws and processes on which all modern human thought and action are based.

MAKING A "ZOMBIE"

Polynice had the power to do this go to a fresh grave, dig up the body before it had time to rot, galvanize it into movement, and then make it a servant or slave, occasionally for the commission of some crime, more often simply as a drudge around the habitation or in farm settings. It does heavy tasks and beats it like a dumb beast if it slackens.

As this was revolving in my mind, I said to Polynice: "Let us talk of zombies for a little. I would like to get some information about the zombie superstition? I would like to get some idea of how it originated."

My rational friend, Polynice, was deeply astonished and hurt. He leaned over and put his hand in protest on my knee.

PROTESTS UNBELIEF

"Superstition, Mr. Seabrook? But I assure you that this is not a matter of superstition. And there are other evil practices connected with the dead—exorcism. They exist to an extent that you whites do not dream of, though evidences are everywhere under your eyes."

At this moment, in the moonlight, there are zombies working on this island, less than two hours' ride from my own habitation. If you will ride with me tomorrow night, yes. I will show you dead men working in the cane-fields. Come along with me to the cemeteries. There are sometimes zombies. When you also have seen these zombies with their faces and their eyes in which there is no life, you will not only believe in the poor zombies who should be resting in their graves, you will pity them from the bottom of your heart."

SEES WALKING DEAD

A strange thing is that before finally taking leave of La Gonave, I did see these "walking dead men" and I did, in a sense, "believe" in them and pitied them, indeed, from the bottom of my heart.

Polynice was not the next night, though Polynice gave his promise ride with me through the Bois Noir, across the Plaine Mapou, to the deserted, silent cane-fields where he had hoped to show me zombies laboring.

It was not on any night at all. It was in broad daylight one afternoon, when we passed that way again, on the lower trail to Plaine.

Polynice reined in his horse and pointed to a rough, stony terraced slope—one which four laborers, Ghouls, went to the cemeteries, chopping the earth with machetes, among straggling cotton stalks, about a hundred yards distant from the trail.

IN BROAD DAYLIGHT

"Wait while I go up there," he said, excited and eager because a chance had come to fulfill his promise. "I think it is La Gonave with the zombies. I want you to leave your horse and come. Starting up the slope, he shouted to the woman. "It is I, Polynice," and when I waved later I followed.

As I clambered up, Polynice was whispering to the woman, I heard. She had stopped working—a big-boned, black-faced black girl, who regarded me with surly unfriendliness.

My first impression of the three supposed zombies, who continued dubiously to work, was that here was an indescribable "something" unnatural and strange. They were plodding like brutes, like automata.

Without stooping down I could not fully see their faces which were

RECOGNIZED BY LAW

"I will show you what the key to what you are seeking," and standing on a chair he pulled down a paper-bound book from a top shelf. It was nothing mysterious or esoteric, of the Republic of Haiti. He thumbed through it and pointed to a paragraph which freely translated read:

OIL GOING FAST, NAVY REPORTS

Admiral Testifies in Move for Conservation

Supply Used More Rapidly Than in Other Countries

Investigation Afoot to Check Foreign Shipments

WASHINGTON, March 26. (AP)—Rear-Admiral H. Rousseau, chief of the Navy Department oil office, testified today before the House Naval Committee that the United States was using up its estimated oil supply faster than any other nation.

Appearing in connection with a bill to give the Department authority to negotiate contracts which naval officers believe will tend to insure conservation of the naval oil reserves, he said that the Department now was conducting an investigation to ascertain the amount of navy royalty oil that finds its way into foreign countries.

Upon the basis of this investigation, he said, the Department hoped to recommend to Congress legislation that would prevent such future foreign consumption.

Under questioning by Representative Britton of Illinois, the witness testified that a recent report showed that 15 per cent of oil obtained from naval reserves Nos. 1 and 2 in California, went to foreign countries. Moreover, this week to the Far East, he said.

The only specific case of American oil going abroad mentioned was that some oil produced by the Honolulu Consolidated Oil Company of California was sent on a lease on vessel No. 2 at Panama Vista Hills, went to the Far East.

Admiral Rousseau also submitted a report to the committee in which among other things it was said that the Teapot Dome reserve has a "much smaller oil and gas content than reserves No. 1."

"It will require further investigation for a period of at least a year to determine its value as a permanent reserve," the report continued.

The report also said that differences have been found in regard to the value of Teapot Dome as a permanent reserve on account of possible drainage as a result of operations in the Salt Creek field to the north and of operations north and northwest of the reserve.

INDIANAPOLIS, March 26. (AP)—Acts of terrorism asserted to have been committed by members of the Ku Klux Klan in Ohio last year, and a charge that the secret order was closely allied with units of State government were related by Attorney L. Gilliom today by James R. Ramsey of Gratiot, Mich. The testimony was taken in a deposition in Gilliom's suit against the Klan from Indiana. The "Klan of Death" of the Klan, and the "Knight Riders" of the Klan, are branches of the Klan, prosecuting attorneys, police chiefs and newspapermen generally called the "Pompey" identified. Members of the Grand Dragon's guard were members of the intelligence department, he said.

In 1924, the Klan made political states and supported the successful campaign of W. V. Denslow for Governorship, Ramsey asserted. "Radicalism" of some Klansmen who attended the riot in Niles, O., in 1924, Ramsey said. Several persons were killed and others injured in the riot.

Among the statements Ramsey made were that the Klan in Ohio collected approximately $10,000,000, and did not spend any of it for charitable purposes; that between $200,000 and $250,000 were collected for a State home which never was completed, and that the Klan in Ohio at its peak had more than 400,000 members, but that it had shrunk to about 250,000 in 1926.

NIAGARA FALLS (Ont.) March 26. (AP)—From an undetermined position in the broad Pacific Ocean the British oil carrier British Hussar sent an urgent call for help at 7:45 a.m. Saturday, said reports received here today by the United States naval radio and the Mackay radio service. The British vessel is believed to have a crew of forty.

In response three naval vessels sped from the Pearl Harbor station, near Honolulu, Sunday morning, heading for a place 400 miles northwest of the Hawaiian group, whence it was thought the call might have come. The warships, the mine layers Burns and Ludlow and the minesweeper Whippoorwill, had orders to search a radius of 125 miles.

The signals from the British Hussar were so faint that her position could not be learned definitely, but the words, "Help wanted—urgent," were heard by the naval radio operators on board the steamer Ventura and Niagara. In addition, the radio man thought he detected the tragic word "afire," but the signals were so faint that he was uncertain. The calls for help also were heard by the station Wile Hill, Honolulu.

The Ventura operator, straining ears, made out the longitude position sent by the distressed vessel as 162.30 west or 167.30 west, which is approximately that of the Hawaiian Islands. Navigation experts believed the British Hussar might have been south or southwest of the islands, on a voyage among the South Sea Islands while bound from England to China and Japan.

NEWS OF SOUTHERN COUNTIES

JURY ACCUSES CITY OFFICIAL

Bakersfield Treasurer Faces Two Felony Counts

Theft of $15,143 from City Funds is Charged

Indictment Fixes Bond for Stilwell at $10,000

BAKERSFIELD, March 26.—Dave W. Stilwell, city treasurer of Bakersfield, was arrested here today under an indictment of the grand jury charging larceny, on two counts. On the first count, Stilwell is charged with grand theft, the indictment alleging that the treasurer took $15,143.34, and the second count charges misappropriation of public money in this amount. The indictment was returned by the grand jury after it had been called into session by Foreman A. W. Marion.

The first count of grand theft, the indictment charges that on or about March 1, 1926, David W. Stilwell, "in the county of Kern, State of California, unlawfully took the property of the city of Bakersfield, a municipal corporation, consisting of $15,143.34." The second count, charging misappropriation of public money, alleges that Stilwell was employed as a treasurer of the city of Bakersfield for a period of about March 1, 1926, he "did then and there willfully, unlawfully, feloniously and fraudulently, and without authority of law, appropriate and sum of money to his own use not in the name and lawful execution of his employment as treasurer of the city of Bakersfield." The indictment specifies further that the foregoing counts are descriptive "of one and the same transaction and events."

Names of witnesses examined before the grand jury, according to the indictment, are as follows: Vance Vanpier, William R. Leonard, Lyman H. Sturt, L. K. Stoner and Lucile Morris.

In the second count of the indictment, the grand jury fixed the bond for Stilwell's release from custody pending trial at $10,000.

County Loses Tax Decision

VENTURA, March 26.—That Ventura county is "down but not out" in the Barry case as far as having a chance to regain the $37,000 retained by the former assessor from his tax collections, seemed to be the status today with the receipt of word by County Clerk L. E. Hallowell, that Judge Franklin M. Gardner has ruled against the county, sustaining the Clarke and Bowker demurmers on the first two causes of action.

Inasmuch as the first two of the actions were the ones upon which the county placed more reliance to obtain a final decision, the battle is a hard one to the outcome. Although no such expressions were made by the attorneys in the case, surprise was expressed by other interested parties in the Courthouse on the court's decision.

The first cause of action was based upon the alleged failure of Harry to take a proper oath of office, the complaint stating that the word "assessor" had not been written into the oath which he took. The second cause of action was based on the alleged non-payment of money on commission on unsecured personal property taxes which, in reality was collected from real estate taxes. Both of these causes of action were sustained by the court. The third cause of action was a quiet title suit. The demurmer on this was overruled and the defendant had fifteen days to answer.

James C. Hollingsworth, District Attorney, said that the county would take the first cause of action and that he would consult the Board of Supervisors as to its worth in the matter of an appeal on the first two causes of action.

Harney Expedition Teamster Succumbs at Glendale

Built Boyle Heights Street Car Line to Plaza

Recent Fall is Blamed for Death of Gillette

GLENDALE, March 26.—Jeffrey Wisner Gillette, 92 years of age, who crossed the plains as a teamster with a wagon train in the Harney expedition of 1857, and who later built the first street car line in Los Angeles, running from Boyle Heights to the Plaza, died at night at the Payne's Sanitarium, 1223 South Boynton street.

Mr. Gillette was postmaster at Cucamonga during the second administration of President Lincoln, and for a short time also held the position of clerk of the District Court of Los Angeles.

FOUNDED TITLE FIRM

He was one of the partners in the firm of Gibson & Gillette, owners of the Title Company, the predecessor of the Title Insurance and Trust Company, Los Angeles.

Until February 22, when he fractured his shoulder in a fall, he had made his home with Edward Turner, 102 Harvey Drive, but after that accident he was taken to the sanatorium, where he remained until his death, which was largely due to the draft on his strength caused by the accident.

Mr. Gillette was born in Elmira, N. Y., the son of a minister, on November 1, 1835, going west to Kansas in 1855. While there he joined the Harney expedition that started westward across the plains to relieve settlers from the aftermath of the Indian massacre that wiped out 147 lives, enlisting as a teamster to drive one of the 300 covered wagons.

Alice Pearl Hall

Five-months-old prodigy of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Hall, 44, of Larkspur, Ocean Beach, who is in the 100th-balloon contest of the health expedition to be held at San Diego.

SAN DIEGO, March 26.—The Ocean Beach Health Expedition has selected six days beginning April 10 for its annual convention and exposition. It embraces the entire Pacific Coast.

Contests showing the physical development of men, women and children are being arranged by the instructors of the major athletic clubs, gymnasiums and societies. Prof. Otto Schmidt will conduct calisthenics numbers that will be staged at Boyle Heights, during the May field day.

The baby contest is drawing wide interest and is in charge of Alice

WALKED 800 MILES

On arriving at Salt Lake City, Gillette and five companions separated from the wagon train and headed westward toward the mountains of Cal., where they emerged in mining. An injury that Gillette had received when he was 13 years of age, however, prevented his continuing in this work, and he came to Los Angeles, then a city of 4500 inhabitants.

While a resident of Los Angeles, Mr. Gillette married one of the Serrit sisters, a member of a pioneer Southern family. Mrs. Gillette's sister being Mrs. Widney, the mother of Mrs. Frank G. Murphy, wife of the late Judge Steere. His marriage was one of the first to be performed in the little brick church on Fort street, so prominently identified with the early history of the Methodist church in Los Angeles. Mr. Gillette died in 1920.

FUNERAL WEDNESDAY

Funeral services will be conducted Wednesday at 1:30 p.m. at the Edgewood Mortuary home of J. P. Widney, D.D., and Rev. J. Whitcomb Brougher, Jr., pastor of the First Baptist Church of Glendale, officiating, and interment will be made in Rosedale Cemetery, Los Angeles.

PIONEER SANTA PAULA RESTRICTS SUCCUMBS

SANTA PAULA, March 26.—Daniel Boone Harrison, 85-year-old pioneer, who passed away here yesterday, was one of the last survivors in the county of the Civil War veterans.

Mr. Harrison, who had lived in the city for thirty-seven years, witnessed during his lifetime many historical changes in the nation, State and county. At the age of 18 he joined Company D of the Tenth Infantry, California, and spent four years under Gen. Grant, according to a report in the Elk's Lodge.

The mother was pronounced by the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Burris are well known young people here, he being one of the officials of the Elk's Lodge.

RICHARDSON LANDED ON HEAD

On the beach at the Glendale Airport Sunday afternoon, died today at the Physicians' and Surgeons' Hospital from injuries received when he was hurled from the cockpit of his plane.

Richardson landed on his head and shoulders after a fall of thirty feet and it was at first thought that he had escaped with a broken shoulder, but later investigation showed that one lung had been punctured by a fragment of his plane.

The class meets once a week in charge of Miss Myrtle Hurt, teacher.

Baseball mitts are doffed, aprons are donned and serious things are done to the available supply of pancake flour.

The class is set to flip them sans turner, the boys contend.

Such a demand to enroll in the class has been made that the boys wanted to enroll and the class had to be restricted by special qualifications of scholarship and citizenship records.

MONROVIA WOMEN SUPPORT HOOVER

MONROVIA, March 26.—There is no wild West atmosphere in the A. V. Hughes home today. What had been a fine rifle is nothing but a bit of scrap iron. The weapon proved too fickle, almost sent Mr. Hughes to the mortuary and gave the entire family of three a severe experience. Hal, the young son of the family, is a firm believer in the wild west, war whoops and shooting contests.

Complying with pleas from the lad, Mr. and Mrs. Hughes and Hal drove to the desert so the lad could have a bit of target practice with a family rifle. They drove to the wide open spaces of the desert and Hal began shooting away with the weapon. A bullet jammed in the chamber and in wrestling with the shooting iron in an effort to get it out, the lad pointed the gun in the direction of the car.

Hughes, Sr., stepped out to help the boy and to give him a lecture on gun practice. Mr. Hughes also climbed out of the front seat of the machine. In struggling with the gun, Hughes, Sr. pointed it at the automobile and the gun discharged. The bullet crashed through the windshield and might have killed Hal. However, he still been in the machine. The interior of the automobile was sprayed with a shower of broken glass.

When the party got back home, Hughes took the weapon to the back yard, seized an axe, and hacked the new rifle to scrap iron.

MONROVIA, March 26.—Rubber is to be added to the varied products of Orange county. Leasing of 100 acres of the Irvine ranch by the American Rubber Producers, Inc., and the planting of 400,000 guayule plants there was announced today through the County Horticultural Commissioner A. A. Brock.

Within four years, the time required for a guayule plant to mature sufficiently for harvesting, it will be possible, when the county's fertile soil will be of aid in breaking the British monopoly of the rubber industry.

The Irvine planting, it is said, is one of several commercial plantings in California this year by the American Rubber Producers, Inc., which company has experimented with the plant for several years and has established a factory at Salinas. The plants brought here

SWINE REJECT CORN FOR FISH

Latest Angling Tale Comes From Shallow Lagoons of Colorado River

LYTHHE, March 26.—Truth still reigns stranger than fiction, even in fish stories. Whereas deaf cats are shown in cartoons fishing for golden perch in a bowl, common barbary hogs are catching their own fish in the lagoons along the Colorado River.

J. Tipton, local rancher, pastured his hogs along the river, twenty miles south of here. The late rise and fall of the river left behind lagoons, full of fish. Tipton reported that he took a load of corn to the swine, but when he saw the clever grunter pounce on large fish here and there in the shallow water, and saw that they were thriving on the piscatorial diet, he decided to feed the corn to the fish.

The hogs seemed to have no fear of the water, wading into the pool and snapping up fish in their jaws.

Child Falls from Carriage and Breaks Neck at Head Catches in Storm Curtain

REDLANDS, March 26.—Sally, 6-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Burris was killed instantly today when she kicked or bounced herself out of the baby buggy in which she was lying, her head catching in the storm curtain and breaking her neck.

Miss Burris had placed the baby in the carriage, which lay back of the home on Sonora street. She left the baby kicking and playing and went into the house. Five minutes later, not hearing a sound and thinking the baby was asleep, she went to the room and found her daughter lying on the floor.

The mother was pronounced by the accident. Mr. and Mrs. Burris are well known young people here, he being one of the officials of the Elk's Lodge.

TRADING HERE AT NEW HIGH

Bank Merger Rumors Denied; Prices Hold Close to Peak Levels; Other Shares Participate

BY EARL E. CROWE

Demonstrating clearly that the fever of speculation has not only penetrated into all large centers of population from the Canadian to the Mexican border, but is steadily rising in the temperature, the Los Angeles Stock Exchange, following on the heels of the New York Stock Exchange, smashed through yesterday to another fresh peak of trading activity. If figures for stock exchanges in other cities were available, it is probable that a nation-wide series of new peaks in speculation would be shown.

Banks were chiefly the media for the furious outburst of speculative demand in Los Angeles. Merchants' National, California Bank and Los Angeles First National, involved in rumors of a consolidation, bid up to unprecedented levels, which were maintained substantially despite denials of the rumors. Five bank stocks hit new high prices for all time.

RECORDS FALL

While the New York market was crossing the 4,000,000-share mark again for the record volume of 4,176,200 shares, the Los Angeles market was transacting a volume of 3,600,000 shares at $4,242,500. This record compares with the previous mark of $4,242,500 established on February 15, last.

Yesterdays' bolling market was only one day in the long succession of abnormally active markets in Los Angeles, with total business for the day up to date exceeding $5,000,000, which already surpasses the previous monthly record. In February of this year a high of $50,633,200 was marked up as the record month.

From the action of the bank stocks the speculation was not claimed to give serious consideration to the denials. More credence, however, seemed to attach to the possibility of a combination between the Merchants' National, the California First and Los Angeles First National, of Engineering Public Service Company, being effected through the public offering of 320,000 shares of the company's $1 dividend convertible preferred stock at $100 a share by Stone & Webster & Co., Los Angeles, Chicago, Boston, Philadelphia, New York, and Brown Brothers & Co. and Brown Brothers & Co. The proceeds will be applied with other funds toward retirement of the entire outstanding shares of $7 dividend preferred stock at $110 and accrued interest.

COTCH FINANCE

Nebraska is forbidden by the State Constitution from borrowing money or issuing bonds and is, therefore, in pretty good shape financially. Instead of paying interest the State collects a lot of it from other States, whose bonds it may hold in the treasury. Nebraska collects over $700,000 a year on its holdings in Massachusetts securities alone. No warrant for worrying over Nebraska.

DOING GOOD

The marines are not the only Americans in Nicaragua. For years the Rockefeller Foundation has had experienced men in Nicaragua and Honduras in an organized campaign against the hookworm and the mosquito. They are making Central America more healthful and efficient and are gradually erasing the reasons for various epidemics. This is a work of benevolence and was underway a dozen years ago. Again demonstrating that the latent impulse of America is for the health and progress of the world.

GOOD WORD FOR COFFEE

After all that has been said against the baneful effects of coffee-drinking, now comes Prof. Ralph H. Cheney of the biology department of New York University with the statement that it is not only harmless but beneficial. Prof. Cheney has been making an exhaustive study of the effect of coffee on animals and man, and he says that the properly prepared beverage is highly advantageous with respect to over 90 per cent of normal individuals. Amiability and a sense of well-being and good cheer are undeniable accompaniments of the use of coffee. The ascetic Thoreau said he did not need "the muddy stimulant" to assist him in the enjoyment of "the natural rapture of the morning." But in the case of the choleric person to whom it is unsafe to speak until he has quaffed his muddy stimulant one can see how a certain benefit to the whole family is thus derived. Prof. Cheney's dictum doubtless will be attacked, but his pronouncement will be a comfort for the breakfast table.

SANDINO AND CHAMORRO

In his hopeless struggle against our marines Sandino is suffering loss after loss, and his chances of influencing Nicaraguan affairs are lessening week by week. His use of antiaircraft guns has been quite ineffective, as he has made but few hits and these have been rarely fatal to our men. In fact, it would seem that other vultures besides those of his outlaw band—great birds circling in the air—have proved almost as fatal to the flying marines.

It is the encouragement of Gen. Emilio Chamorro, the leader of the Conservative party of Nicaragua, which keeps Sandino going. Were it not for him the Nicaraguan situation would have been cleaned up months ago. Formerly friendly to the United States and favored by our government, he has sadly betrayed our friendship to him by his rebellious and dictatorial acts. It was his faction that opposed the electoral bill under which the United States would have had the elections—a supervision conceded to our government under the terms of the Stimson agreement, but repudiated at Chamorro's instigation, as he fears that a fair election might deprive him of his power.

In times past Trouble-Maker Chamorro has proved himself a master of election manipulation. He seized the Presidency less than two years ago, and he would like to do it again. His ascendancy would mean a sort of legitimization of Sandino's hostile front against our government, and there would be no telling how long we should have to remain in Nicaragua. As it stands, with Sandino at bay in a hopeless combat, and with the reported intention of the United States to supervise the elections despite the breaking of the Stimson agreement, it is going to be a losing game for both Chamorro and Sandino.

PROGRESS IN THE AIR

As soon as lease-purchase contracts now being drawn up for Vail, Mines and Seaton fields as three parts of the city's quadruplicate airport system are signed, there will be a boom in the aircraft business in Los Angeles, from all indications. Where companies have been hesitant because of the uncertainty as to whether Los Angeles would provide property for them, they will be reassured as soon as it is plain there are to be no more hitches. The decisive vote in the City Council is an earnest that the city really means business, and negotiations are said to be already in progress for fields adjoining the sites selected, for use of manufacturing and accessories plants. The Ford airplane interests, for instance, are said to be ready to lease 160 acres adjoining Mines Field; and at Vail Field the Western Air Express is busy outlining its expansion program.

The City Council appears measurable to have risen above politics and is rolling in making its selection, and should receive full credit for a decision which, in the opinion of experts, will place the city in the forefront of air progress. The choice of Vail Field for an airport for the use of commercial lines will receive general approval. The fact that the field has been in successful use for many months no doubt weighed heavily with the Council, as it should. Mines Field, while not demonstrated, appears to have good possibilities, and both it and Seaton Field are recommended by experts. Vail Field has proved itself under the most exacting tests and in real known quantity. The fourth field, the Harbor Department site at Terminal Island, is approved by the Navy.

The Council avoided, in its program, the mistake made by San Francisco in trying to provide for the needs of all classes and kinds of aircraft at a single field. Though the San Francisco municipal airport is gaining business and is expected soon to be self-supporting, it is not getting the patronage of the commercial transport companies which have transferred to a field at Oakland. Four airports for Los Angeles undeniably provide more landing space than is needed at present, but they are no more than will be required for the future, unless all signs fail.

Already the site of a large proportion of the aircraft manufacturing industries of the United States, the home of more licensed pilots than any other similar area, and the place where more private planes are owned and operated in proportion to population than anywhere else, Southern California seems destined to a tremendous aircraft expansion. Nature made certain of this by providing ideal flying conditions, but man has lagged behind in arranging the surface facilities. The long step which Los Angeles now takes will put the artificial conditions almost abreast of the natural, and provide an impetus that will make aviation hard to stop.

That airports should be provided at public expense must be patent to those who will give the subject a moment's reflection. Transportation is civilization, and the public money has always been properly expended in forwarding it because it is for the general good of all—as in the case of highways for motor cars and other vehicles. The airplane does not require paved surfaces to run on, but it does require cleared spots from which to take off and on which to alight, and it has as much right to expect that these will be ready for it as the motor car has to expect a good road. The aircraft industry stands willing to contribute toward the cost of maintenance, and should do so just as the automobile through the gasoline tax minimizes the paving, but it should not be required to provide the field in the first place any more than shipping should do its own harbors. It was by no new principle that the United States government undertook the work of beaconing the airways; it has been working for the safety of navigation since the earliest days. Lighthouses are among the oldest governmental institutions. The provision of airports is thus seen to be a public duty. It also will be paying in investment.

THE OROVILLE CASE

By calling to the attention of the State Railroad Commission the results that will follow, to the public in general and the farmer in particular, from the action of Oroville in taking over the electric system, within its limits, of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company, the Farm Bureau Federation has performed a great public service. Its contention is that Oroville should be required to pay, not only for the physical property it is to acquire, but for the loss in taxes that will accrue both to the State and to the Federal government when the property is taken over by a non-taxpaying owner.

These taxes are to be saddled upon the public outside of Oroville—mainly the farmers, who never succeed in dodging any taxation. The Federation calls attention to another way in which the taking over of these electric properties hurts the other customers of this corporation: it severs from the system a constituent part and thus forces it to conduct the remainder of its business at a higher cost and consequently at higher rates than would otherwise be necessary. For this, too, the Federation contends, Oroville should pay.

The severance the Federation points out, is uneconomic because the greatest good to the greatest number requires that electric power should be fed into and drawn from a common pool, so that even a load as possible may be imposed upon all general power plants and the savings may be reflected in lower rates. Under existing law, Oroville appears to have the right to insist upon the severance, but equity requires that it must compensate the losers for the benefits it expects to receive.

That this expectation will prove illusory may be judged by the general history of municipal ownership enterprises; any savings there might be will be absorbed by inefficiency and contribute to the support of politics. But this is aside from the point. The Farm Bureau Federation appears to have a strong case under the principles of right and justice, and the reasoning in its brief is so cogent that the Railroad Commission will have difficulty in disagreeing with its conclusions. If the principle is accepted, and Oroville required to make good for the burdens its action imposes, the en-

THE SIDE O' LA

BY Lee Shippey

Reprinted from the Bulletin of the National Association of Manufacturers

Perhaps the chief and ultimate uneconomic practice of the closed shop is the collusive agreement. Under this system a group of employers in an industry agree with a union to employ only its members, the union in turn agrees that its members will work only for members of the particular employers' association. The latter, having the power to prevent competitors from obtaining workers, feels free to engage in all manner of extortionate practices.

The Chicago Employers' Association has revealed a particularly menacing form of the collusive agreement. The scheme there is to select a fine-sounding organization name and obtain a charter from the State or federal government, and then employ to its aid a doctor or dentist, a lawyer, a public health institute, the industrial physician, etc. They enlist the aid of a doctor who advises connection with the union, and of a lawyer who advises connection with the police.

Restore
original brilliancy and lustre to woolens, crepes, laces, silks
by this simple method

USE two tablespoonsful of Bobrick's Cloudy Ammonia in three gallons of water and sponge fabrics. You will be delightedly surprised how easily and quickly this simple method will brighten and cleanse the most dainty and colorful weaves. Cannot harm the most delicate fabrics.

Bobrick's Ammonia, the ONLY Cloudy ammonia, makes water soft as rainwater, removes stubborn stains, dissolves grease, keeps hands soft and white.

Because it is double strength it goes twice as far as ordinary cleansers. Saves half the soap—enough to pay its cost. Saves time, energy and money in all household cleansing.

Bobrick's Cloudy Ammonia is the only ammonia which contains nine ingredients, each scientifically serving a purpose.

An interesting booklet tells how to wash woolens without shrinking. How to remove grease spots, how to wash windows with a minimum of effort. Also 34 other helps you will find valuable. Send for your FREE copy before your next cleaning day. It will save you many hours work. Write Bobrick Chemical Co., Dept. OO, 111-117 Garey St., Los Angeles.

Be sure your grocer gives you the genuine Cloudy ammonia.

This Year's Record Low Prices Still Further Reduced, During This City-
Wide Walnut "Sale"

There have been "sales" and "sales"—but here's a sale that is different.

Instead of just one store—it is featured by thousands.

Leading grocers all over town are joining with us—the 4849 Walnut Growers of California—in offering you a history-making Walnut Bargain.

The Lowest Prices in 12 Years

It all started last Fall—when perfect growing weather gave us the biggest crop in history. Naturally, a bumper crop lowers our production costs. And we passed our saving along to you! That's why, all this season, Diamond Walnuts have been so much cheaper.

And you were alert to take advantage of their cheapness. In five months American women have bought 25% more Walnuts than in any previous twelve-month period!

But there are still some left—a small fraction of the crop. And it costs us money to store these. So we've made a further reduction—not the lowest prices in 12 years. And grocers all over the city are co-operating with us by

The secret was revealed by the use of dainty gilt-edged cards hidden in corsages of lavender sweet peas which marked the covers at the luncheon. A small mouth of lavender was embedded in the lavender and spring flowers embellishing the table, and the hostess was lovely in a frock of lavender chiffon with which she wore a corsage of orchids; a gift for the occasion from Mr. Gunnerson.

Members of the Assistance League entertained Thursday afternoon at the Hotel Huntington in Pasadena with a bridge tea which brought together 200 representatives of Los Angeles, Hollywood and Pasadena society, with proceeds from the affair benefitting the Hollywood Day Nursery.

Forty tables were placed in the ballroom, artistically decorated with flowers and greenery, and during the afternoon Mrs. Guy Purdy, the famous bridge expert, who has been the center of great interest this season at the Huntington, contributed a brilliant talk on the lovely Vollmer home in North Myrtle avenue served as the back-

Thursday Night

KHJ Tells of Offerings for Ether Realm

BY DR. RALPH L. POWER

The fourth annual Latin-American concert broadcast from the Pan-American Union Building in Washington is scheduled among the air programs of April 10 over the naval station, NAA.

The United States Orchestra, composed of army and navy musicians, will be lead by Lieut. Charles Bentler, and Capt. W. J. Stedman, alternating in swinging the baton.

When the tone poem, "The Island of Cebos," is played, Enrique Caroselli of Montevideo will be guest conductor. This number, composed by Enrique Rosales of Uruguay, will be followed by selections of Adelio Gamero, Justin Elie, and others.

The spring music fiesta will be made the occasion for a brilliant assemblage of members of the Diplomatic Corps and government officials.

DODGE BROTHERS PRESENTS

Of special interest will be the national hook-up of the Dodge Brothers program at 6 p.m. Thursday of this week.

The huge radio arrangement of this sponsor a number of weeks ago had a tremendous beginning in the form of a record criticism from large numbers of the radio audience.

The so-called humor of Al Johnson brought down the wrath of thousands of prohibitionists, church people, and others interested in law and order.

Even the song and patter of the Stones from Chicago fell flat, while Paul Whiteman's band in New York ruthlessly butchered the Rhapsody in Blue.

A little backwash of criticism came from Will Rogers' imitation of Mr. Coolidge and all in all, a goodly proportion of the radio audience thought the only really worthwhile feature in the air show was the speech from the president of the automobile manufacturing group.

NEW HOOK-UP

By way of making up for the broadcast mix-ups of the initial Dodge Brothers national hook-up, they have planned the next one for this week.

If this week's broadcast goes over in a big way, and without any more social gaffes, will largely recruit thousands of friends lost by reason of the fluke at the other national program.

I see from the KHJ publicity, the Don Lee station that, the Los Angeles Police Department Quartet will entertain over KHJ for a half-hour at 7 p.m. today. This weekly feature was discontinued during the time the officers were busy in connection with the flood rescue work.

PRACTICAL RECIPES

(Receipts for recipes and information pertaining to the proper preparation and serving of food are published in this column every Tuesday. Address questions to L. W. Wiman, Laboratory Kitchen, 100 Arden, Los Angeles, Calif. Ed.)

CHEF WYMAN'S ANSWERS

SOUFFLE POTATOES

L. E. Los Angeles, Cal. Select firm potatoes that are neither too mealy nor watery, and peel very thin, cut lengthwise into slices about one-sixth of an inch thick, and drop into ice water. Remove from the ice water, dry on a clean cloth, then lay the potato slices in a frying basket and plunge them into a kettle of deep fat, heated to 210 deg. F. and cook till tender but not brown. Have another kettle of deep fat heated to 210 deg. and plunge into it the tender potatoes and shake until they puff and are nice brown. Drain carefully, dust with salt and serve on a folded napkin.

FRENCH APPLE PIE

M. D. C. Long Beach, Cal. Line a pie tin with a good short pastry, set into it another pie tin of same size and fill with two cups of flour. Add bulk and roughage of diet—it saved primitive man. It will save you. Eat 100% bran—Filsbury's Bran is the best source of which is so vital to your health with intestinal poisons—but don't form the habit! The natural diet is good and roughage—it saved primitive man. Use it to prepare foods—muffins, tea cakes, doughnuts, apple cakes, etc. are on every package. Eat it three times a day.

SWEET POTATOES CROQUE

J. W. Los Angeles, Cal. Wash, pare and slice six medium-sized sweet potatoes and boil in salted water for about six minutes. Drain, place in a casserole with alternate layers of sweet potatoes and finely minced onions. Add three-fourths of a cupful of sour cream and beat smooth. Add one-half a teaspoonful of lemon juice and a little pepper.

WHOLE WHEAT WAFFLES

R. D. T. Los Angeles, Cal. For the waffles sift two cupfuls of 100% whole wheat flour, with one-quarter of a teaspoonful of salt, four level teaspoons of baking powder, two level teaspoons of sugar, and two cupfuls of buttermilk, mix to a smooth dough, add one and a half cupfuls of chopped seedless raisins, turn out on a well-floured board. Knead smooth, roll out and cut in squares with a large biscuit cutter and bake on a hot greased griddle.

CHICKEN CHILI

M. T. Glendale, Cal. For the sauce sift four cupfuls of flour with a teaspoonful of cream of tartar and a quarter of a teaspoonful of salt; rub into the flour as for biscuits, four tablespoonfuls of powdered sugar, add one teaspoonful of salt, a third cupful of buttermilk, mix to a smooth dough, add one and a half cupfuls of chopped seedless raisins, turn out on a well-floured board. Knead smooth, roll out and cut in squares with a large biscuit cutter and bake on a hot greased griddle.

CHICKEN CHILI

Wash six large chilt peppers and place in a saucepan with enough water to cover and boil until soft. Rub the peppers through a sieve, adding a little of the water to work all of the pulp through. Heat two tablespoonfuls of oil in a pan and add two small onions chopped fine, two cloves of garlic chopped and four tablespoonfuls of chopped capers. Cook until the onion is clear, add the pepper puree, the boiled chicken and the water to cover. Cover the pan and cook slowly until the chicken is tender. Thicken the sauce with one tablespoonful of butter, rub to a paste, add two cupfuls of flour, disjoint two broiled chickens, season with salt and pepper and roll in sifted flour. Heat four tablespoonfuls of olive oil in a saute pan, add the chicken and cook until brown.

Shake the jar until all the ingredients are thoroughly mixed.

HOT CABBAGE SALAD

G. Y. C. Los Angeles, Cal. Place in a saucepan, one-half a cupful of sugar, two tablespoons of salt, dry mustard, one teaspoonful of cayenne pepper, a fourth of a cupful of vinegar, and the yolks of two eggs. Mix altogether, place a hot griddle in the center of each square; brush the edges of the paste with the white of eggs, press down firmly, turn over and cook in a frying pan over a high fire, basting with butter or oil, or boiling, salted water for fifteen minutes. The Story of Our War With Spain

The Bombardment of the Matanzas Forts

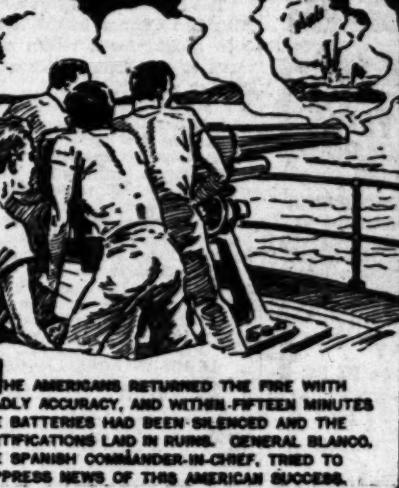

by J. CARROLL MANSFIELD

ON APRIL 22, 1898, THE CRUISER "NEW YORK" WITH THE "PURITAN" AND THE MONITOR

AS THE AMERICAN WARSHIPS ADVANCED TOWARD THE ENTRANCE OF THE HARBOR, THEY WERE GREETED BY A SHOWER OF SHOTS FROM THE SPANISH BATTERIES, ALL OF WHICH WENT WIDE OF THE MARK.

THE AMERICANS DESTROYED THE FORT WITH DEADLY ACCURACY, AND WITHIN FIFTEEN MINUTES THE BATTERIES HAD BEEN SILENCED AND THE FORTIFICATIONS LAY IN RUINS. GENERAL BLANCO, THE SPANISH COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, TRIED TO SUPPRESS NEWS OF THIS AMERICAN SUCCESS.

HE DECLARED THAT THE ONLY LOSS IN THE BOMBARDMENT WAS A MULE KILLED ON THE DECK OF THE MONITOR. HIS STATEMENT APPEALED TO THE SPANISH, BUT THE SPANISH HAD NO HUMOR AND THE "MATANZAS" GREATLY ENJOYED THE POPULAR EXPRESSION FOR THE SPANISH WAY OF CONCEALING CANNON.

SENTENCE FOR STRAYING SON

A mother's dramatic recital of her struggle to reclaim her boy from "the other woman" won him a light sentence yesterday when he pleaded guilty before Municipal Judge Turney to a charge of bootlegging. Mrs. Mary Hilton is the mother. Her son, David, 21 years of age, was the defendant.

"We were the happiest family in the world until my boy fell into the clutches of this woman," testified Mrs. Hilton. "My boy was a model son and brother, and have been separated twice, and David, the eldest of my five children, has been the bread-winner. He never gave me a cross word until I asked him to give her up."

"I thought she must be beautiful, the way my boy spoke of her, but when I asked to see her I found that she was a washed-out blonde, old enough to be his mother. I told her she ought to come here and tell the truth—that the man who was in the bootlegging business. She just used David as a tool to sell liquor, so she wouldn't run any risk."

"I give you a light sentence," declared Judge Turney, "will you give up this woman and return to your duty? It may seem a heavy burden to you now, but if you carry it like a man you'll feel better after years."

The defendant, who had been standing with bowed head, did not speak, but nodded a promise and the court let him go with a ten-day jail sentence.

Announcement of reopening of the medical school of the University of Southern California and tentative plans for its operation and financing were made public at a luncheon yesterday given by the university administration in honor of President Ray Lyman Wilbur of Stanford University and a group of six Los Angeles physicians.

At the luncheon, which was served in the presidential suite on the university campus, President KleinSmid announced that the trustees of the university have agreed to set aside $500,000 as endowment of the medical school, and made public the personnel of a medical school committee, consisting of the university and graduates of other medical schools.

SCHOOL NEED STRESSED
The need of a first-class medical school in Los Angeles was stressed by Dr. Wilbur, who declared that a city the size of Los Angeles with the stimulating effect of a medical school upon the profession and the public is a "calamity."

The medical educational committee, which was formed to consider the possibility of a medical school in Southern California, is in effect two committees working jointly toward the opening of the school at the University of Southern California. COURT SNUFFS
CULVER LIGHTSContract Enjoined on Ground of Official's InterestTrustee Gardner's Voting for Salesman Gardner ToldTaxpayer Brings Suit for Sake of Illumination

The project for lighting Culver Boulevard in Culver City has been held up indefinitely by an injunction issued yesterday by Judge Gates in Superior Court. Pending further action by the court the whole matter of the letting of the contract for the job will be thoroughly investigated.

The suit was brought by E. C. Lawrence as a taxpayer, against the City Trustees. He asserted that one of the trustees voted on a contract in which he was directly concerned. The specifications for the lighting standards provide that they shall be made of die-cast aluminum only by the La Lux Manufacturing Company, the complainant recites. A contract was let to the D. J. McEwan Electric Company.

Lawrence declares that M. D. Gardner, one of the trustees who voted for the specifications and the contract, is sales manager of the La Lux Manufacturing Company and that, therefore, the contract is void on the ground that a public officer has voted for a contract in which he has direct interest.

STAR IN SUIT

CROSS-FIREMae Murray Explains How She Bought Home After Only "Bird's-eye" View

Cross-examined most of yesterday by Attorneys Roger Marchetti and A. P. Michael Marian in her suit to rescind her contract for purchase of the home of John Francis Donahue, Mae Murray, film star, went into exhaustive detail on each piece of furniture included in the purchase. The case is being heard before Superior Judge Archibald.

According to her testimony she got just a bird's-eye view of the furniture and fittings when she first visited the place and decided to buy it. In answer to questions by Attorney Marchetti, who held a typewritten list of the furnishings, she told what was in the place when she took it over and what was missing or changed from her first cursory inspection.

Despite the dry details of the lawsuit, which is just like any other lawsuit might be over furniture or a house, the courtroom continues to be jammed with curious spectators who hold their seats throughout the day as though it were a first-class show. Most of the spectators are women, and favored ones have filled up the spare seats inside the "sanctum" reserved for lawyers and court attaches.

The spectators continued to be called, and John F. Davis, butler, and Anita G. Davis, maid, in the Murray home, contributed to the testimony of the plaintiff.

Two Face Jury
Over Theft of
Truck of Silk

Richard D. Darwin, 32 years of age, and William M. Blevins, 38 years of age, yesterday went to trial before a jury in Superior Judge Carlos S. Hardy's court, charged with stealing a truck owned by the Pioneer Truck and Transfer Company, laden with bolts and valued at more than $50,000.

Attorney Archibald, Archibald Butler, 23, pleaded guilty and was granted permission to file an application for probation. This ruling will be handed down April 11, next.

The first witness to take the stand for the State was Jacob Schatz, 3508 Pearcy street, Belvedere, who testified he had rented a garage to Darwin for $200 a month. A few hours after the truckload of silk was stolen it was found stored in the garage.

"CAPTIVE" SHOW CLOSES

Action Taken by Managers of Much-Disputed Play to Halt Further Raids by Police

Rather than submit the actors and actresses to the indignity of further arrests, it was announced from the stage, the Mayan Theater, closing "The Captive," object of an attack by the City Prosecutor's office, last night. Money was refunded to a large audience that had shown up, presented an affidavit from A. Leslie Pearce, producer, in which it was denied "The Captive" in any way affected the public morals or decency. It is denied 2000 persons who attended performances have signed cards on which they stated they had no complaint to make against the drama.

Attorney Cleary declared the play is a classic and as a matter of fact the play was used as a textbook in the University of California. The attorney contended the action of the police, at the command of City Prosecutor Leland, was in violation of property rights that will result in a tremendous loss to the producers.

TRIAL ARRESTED THREE TIMES

The cast has been arrested three times and the producers four times since last Saturday and legal developments yesterday indicated they probably would have been taken into custody at every future performance. They obtained their release on bail after each arrest.

"Tell us what the public thought we did tonite," we have just been told to fight," declared Ed Hollingsworth, producer, "our own honor and the integrity of the theater as a whole seem to be at stake. We have no apologies to offer for 'The Captive.'

Down to close the show came yesterday afternoon after Presiding Superior Judge McLucas denied motions for an order restraining the police from interfering with the performances. The police, it was agreed, previously had agreed to arrest the cast again immediately after the curtain for first act entry.

ATTORNEY'S ARGUMENT

Judge McLucas denied the attorney's motion only after considering both sides of the question for nearly two hours.

Plodding Dobbin Who Wrecked a Flivver Gets Jolt in Fog That Stirs Her Liver, But Merrily Trots Upon Her Way and Leaves the Driver to Cuss and Pay

The Old Gray Mare of skinny frame and wraith-like form, is loose again. From out the fog out she comes. She stood her ground without regard, for auto bumpers touted "hard," and took the blow square on her withers—enough to waken torpid nerves. Her first renoun at Downey town, had to her braw brought not a frown, as she recited the blem of tin she smashed to pieces riding in, and of the last four she flattened, the day the first encounter happened.

"Twas on the road called Centinella, the old mare met this other fella; the fog did shroud her withered form, and sheered sound of honking horn when out the mist drove Arthur Burton, his vision blared by misty curtain.
